Summary

Hi, I'm Petr Gavrilov, an experienced Lead Frontend Developer with a rich 8-year journey in the tech world. Let me show you how I can add value to your projects:

Frontend Mastery: Specializing in Angular+Typescript for commercial projects, I'm also hands-on with React (Next.js) for personal endeavors. Adaptable to different tech stacks as needed.

Full stack skills: Proficient in building APIs using Node.js (Nest.js) and creating robust backends (JSON, SQL) that seamlessly integrate with external services. Currently expanding my skills to Golang (Go).

UX/UI: Skilled in building intuitive internal tools from the ground up in Figma. I prioritize creating user-friendly interfaces based on solid design principles.

Project Management: I turn ideas into well-defined, actionable plans with clear goals and deadlines, using tools like Jira for meticulous task management.

Team Management: For the past 3 years, I've successfully led a team of developers and QA professionals that I built from the ground up. My focus includes refining processes, fostering team growth, and increasing motivation.

Driving Change: I'm passionate about fostering engineering cultures, promoting collaborative practices, code reviews, and automated QA testing.

Mentorship: I'm enthusiastic about mentoring, having promoted 4 junior developers to mid-level and trained several QA professionals in JavaScript coding.

I look forward to bringing my expertise and passion to your team and projects!
